The range combines clean, lithe lines with a fresh shape and effortless curves, yet all the while hinting at the presence and strength within its core, formed from an abundance of solid, 'A' grade European oak.

With a nod to the zenith of Scandinavian design, the soft radius of the tops follow through the framework, lending each piece a relaxed air, and a subtlety so often absent in a world where chunkiness is all too present. Gentle tapering of the legs allow the cabinets to sit gracefully from the ground, underlining this design's modish look, and accentuating the refined profile.

Featured here in 'Soaped Oak' - durable and easy to care for, this option retains the pure, smooth feel of natural wood, while providing a finish practical for today's lifestyles. Light handles rest in perfect proportion on doors and drawers to compose a fluid aspect, and finishing an uncluttered, elegant style which fuses the beauty of natural oak with the essence of contemporary design, in a range to complement many of today's interior schemes.
